

Handwritten text in a cursive script, possibly a title or a note, located in the upper middle section of the cover. The text is difficult to decipher due to fading and the texture of the material.